Two-Year-Old Child Lured to Vacant House Dies Of Cold, Hunger

Girl Was Held Captive for Two Days by 12-Year-Old Boy, Who Took Clothes From Her—Attempts of Doctors to Save Child Fail.

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—Little Dorcas, two years old, died today of cold and starvation a short time after a 12-year-old boy confessed holding her captive for two days in a crumbling attic.

Police announced that George Rosales admitted luring the child from her home by promising her candy, but that he had not attacked her. Doctors found evidence of a criminal assault.

The girl was locked up for juvenile authorities.

He induced the child to go with him last Sunday, his statement said, by promising her candy. Then he locked her in a room.

He took her to the building, jumped through a window, helped her down, and carried her to the attic. The stairs had been wrecked and he had to climb up the wall, getting a foothold in the plaster.

"When I got her there, I took off her clothing and looked at her. I was away and returned later. Then I left and did not go back Monday morning. I went to school. Tuesday afternoon I went back, and I thought she had been murdered. I was scared. No one was around so I wasn't so scared."

"I thought she needed food, but I was afraid to let my parents know. I looked out a hole in the building and saw some kids staring up. I chased them away. Then I left and went home."

Afterward two boys made their way through the wreckage of the building and found the child, naked, dirty and unconscious. They thought she was dead, and went home, so frightened they did not speak of it. Later they told others in the family and last night police found the child.

A flicker of an eye told them she was alive and they rushed her to a hospital.

There physicians could not hear her heart beat, at first they rubbed the stiff body with hot oil to stimulate the circulation, and injected heart stimulants and food. They announced, after many hours work over her, that they thought she would live, if she didn't develop pneumonia.

But she died at 2 a. m. at the very hour that Rosales was being locked in the juvenile detention home. Police said he had, despite his youth, a previous record for molesting girls.

The girl was starved and frozen, unprotected and unfed in the attic of a building whose windows long since have been broken out and whose doors have been for weeks boarded and nailed.

Dorcas had been sought by police, firemen and neighbors. Rosales made his confession to Police Captain Charles Essig who said his file now is up to juvenile authorities.

Dorcas lived with her grandmother. Her mother is a patient in a hospital for the insane at Dunning, Ill., and her father is an unemployed laborer.

Samuel Insull Return Assured, Sails Friday

Istanbul, April 11 (AP)—Samuel Insull will be placed aboard the S. S. Exilona Friday at Smyrna and started on his return voyage to the United States in custody of American authorities.

Bertou V. Berry, 32-year-old third secretary of the American Embassy, will accompany Insull on his trip to face charges of embezzlement and fraud in Illinois.

United States Ambassador Robert P. Skinner, who designated Berry to make the trip, previously had indicated Insull might be placed aboard the American Export Line ship, the S. S. Exilona, leaving Istanbul today.

American authorities said they expected no further difficulty in finally bringing to an end the 14-year-old Chicagoan's long flight from justice. They minimized the significance of last-minute moves by Insull's legal staff to delay his extradition.

The Associated Press learned that Insull will be removed from the house of detention in which he is held here Thursday night. He will be taken on a Turkish coastwise boat and is scheduled to arrive at Smyrna Friday afternoon.

The formalities of actually handing him over to the United States will take place aboard the Exilona.

Friday, The 15th.

Istanbul, April 11 (AP)—Samuel Insull, Sr., will be returned from his self-imposed exile aboard the S. S. Exilona. The sailing from Smyrna is Friday, the thirteenth.

JAPANESE MINISTER OF WAR OFFERS RESIGNATION TODAY

General Hayashi visited Premier Saionji and expressed a desire to leave office because of the blot on the family honor.

The premier urged the minister to remain. It was believed he eventually would agree to do so.

$150,000 Fire at Fleischmanns, 7 Stores Completely Destroyed

Flames Sweep Through Business Section Destroying Seven Business Buildings and Partially Damaging Four Residences—No One Was Injured—Origin of Fire Undetermined.

Fire of undetermined origin, discovered at 4 o'clock this morning in the rear of the store of Charles Muller by the driver of a transient lumber truck, swept through the heart of the Fleischmanns business section, destroying completely seven stores, partially damaging four residences on the opposite side of the street, and causing a general property loss estimated at $150,000. No one was injured. The fire was not brought under control until 9 o'clock.

At the time the blaze was discovered in the Muller store, a strong westerly wind was blowing and before the Fleischmanns fire company could respond the fire had gained much headway. Soon it had spread to the adjoining store and swept unchecked through the entire block.

The seven business buildings burned to the ground were: Charles Muller, news store and general merchandise; Halpern Brothers, Inc., three units, a department, a sporting goods and delicatessen shop; M. K. Franklin, bowling alley; Julius Brill, small newsstand and residence attached; S. H. Halpern, hardware, furniture and lumber.

The families of Paul Pultz, Ralph B. Reed and N. B. Halpern, who had apartments above the store block, were forced to flee in their nightclothing. They lost everything.

Russian Airmen Save 33 Men from Bering Sea Ice Floe, 50 Remain

Daring Rescue Flights by Soviet Aviators Made Unusually Hazardous by Rapidly Cracking Ice—Schmidt Said to Be Very Ill.

Moscow, April 11—Thirty-three members of a party of 83 men marooned on an ice floe in the Bering Sea were rescued by daring Russian airmen late last night and early today.

Plans were rushed, said reports to the government rescue commission here, for the rescue of the 50 castaways still imperiled on the cracking floe.

Twenty-two persons were taken to safety last night by the Russian fliers, Kaminski, Molokov and Slepnev, in three separate planes and flown to Cape Van Karem, Siberia.

Early today, the aviators Kaminski and Molokov picked up eleven more. The latter two airmen made a round trip flight from Cape Van Karem. Slepnev already was at the icy camp of the castaways with a plane he had damaged slightly in landing several days ago.

The marooned men were members of the Wrangel Island expedition of Prof. Otto Schmidt. They took refuge on the ice when their vessel, the Chelmskin, was crushed in the ice and sank February 15 on the return trip.

Fliers have been trying for weeks to reach the 83 men. Previously, the ten women and two children marooned with them had been removed by plane.

The probability that Commander Schmidt was among those taken off today was seen in earlier advices which said he had contracted an illness resembling pneumonia. It was added that despite his efforts to conceal it, the rescue commission had ordered him to place himself among the first of those remaining to be saved.

True to the traditions of the sea, he had listed himself as the last to leave.

Advices from the Cape Van Karem rescue base said he would be flown to Nome or Fairbanks, Alaska, for treatment should his illness be found serious.

Dispatches reporting the actual rescue of the 23 survivors, however, failed to mention him. Neither did they identify any of those brought off the ice.

Fire Truck Bids Were Too High

The fire board met Tuesday evening at the Central Fire Station and opened bids for the purchase of a new fire truck to be assigned to Union Horse Company in Ponckhockie. All of the bids exceeded the appropriation that had been made for the purpose, and for that reason were rejected. The board voted to re-advertise for bids which will be opened on Tuesday evening, April 17.

Eugene H. Fowler, Straad hardware dealer, was awarded the contract to supply the fire department with 500 feet of fire hose.

Receipts for the month, $4,229,593.31. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,265,485,348.56; expenditures, $2,265,485,348.56 (including $252,699,525.95 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $2,212,962,722.15; gold assets, $73,726,697,731.09.

Organization Leaders Term Tuesday's Victory a Democratic Tribute to Both National and Local—Rainey Scores 5 to 1 Win—The Priest Renominated.

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—Leaders of organized Democrats in Illinois who were candidates won nomination in yesterday's state-wide primary almost as they pleased, labeled the tremendous Democratic vote today as a tribute and a compliment to the Democratic administration both national and local.

The standstill of the election lay largely in the fact that it was the first in which an entire state was afforded opportunity to register its opinion of its congressmen since the Democratic landslide of 1932.

Henry T. Rainey, Congressman from the 26th district and speaker of the House of Representatives, scored a five-to-one victory over James Kirby, a state representative.

The national administration was not a direct issue, the Democrats having been content for the most part to campaign on local issues, with little more than perfunctory reference to the "new deal."

The possible nomination of a Republican candidate in the Tenth district came closer to having administrative significance, perhaps, than did the wide victory of Speaker Rainey. That was the apparent success of Ralph E. Church, who contested for the Republican congressional nomination against the incumbent, James Simpson.

Church was endorsed by a Roosevelt cabinet member—Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior, who said Simpson's policy playing did not qualify him for Congress. Returns, however, were far from complete, and Church's lead was slender.

Oscar DePriest, only negro member of Congress, was renominated by Republicans in the First district.

Michael Igoe, long a figure in Chicago and state Democratic, was nominated for Congressman-at-large, together with Martin A. Brennan, incumbent. Igoe victory was scored at the expense of an incumbent Congressman, Walter Nesbitt, who for years has been prominent in southern Illinois labor circles.

Republicans viewed the primary with an optimism that equalled that of the Democrats. Chairman William H. Weber, of the Republican Cook county (Chicago) central committee, said the vote was gratifying particularly to Republicans who believed in a "united and rehabilitated Republican party." No special effort was made to get out the Republican vote, he said.

With the exception of Simpson in the Tenth, Republican incumbents appeared safely nominated.

In Cook county the Democrats, on the basis of incomplete returns, polled an indicated vote of around 100,000, or slightly less than double that of the Republicans. Downstate the indicated vote was 270,000 for the Democrats and 450,000 for the Republicans.

Of the 17 "new deal" Democratic Congress incumbents the fifteen regarded as having organization support, swept on to victory.

NEW WORLD'S AIRPLANE ALTITUDE RECORD CLAIMED

Rome, April 11 (AP)—A new world's airplane altitude record was claimed today by Pilot Renato Donati, who announced that he reached an altitude of 15,000 meters (49,213 feet) this morning over Montecelio Airfield. He flew a Caproni plane.

The present recognized international altitude record for airplanes was set by G. Lemoine of France at 13,661 meters (44,819.415 feet) on September 28, 1932, at Villa Couba, Italy.

An official announcement of Donati's flight is to be made shortly.

Mrs. Roosevelt Says Subsistence Homestead Plan Not Communistic

Contradicts Contention of Dr. Wirt That Project Is "A Communistic Effort"—Inquiry Will Resume Next Tuesday With the Appearance of the Six Persons Named by Wirt as Attending Dinner.

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today contradicted the contention of Dr. William A. Wirt that the subsistence homestead project at Reedsville, Va., was "communistic."

The wife of the President gave no answer in response to questions at a White House conference with news papermen.

A while before, Dr. Wirt, on a visit to the capital, had been told the house investigating committee desired no further testimony from him and he was free to return to his Gary, Ind., home.

The inquiry will resume next Tuesday with the appearance of the six persons named by Wirt as having attended a September dinner in Virginia at which he testified he heard talk of revolutionary plotting.

Some of those named by him have denied that conversations related by him took place.

Mrs. Roosevelt said today: "Never in this country, to my knowledge has it been considered communistic for an opportunity to be given to people to earn their own living and own their houses."

She added that while it is a fact that the government will provide the initial capital on this particular project, any private enterprise that wishes to do so may establish the same sort of communities.

"It is hoped that many private enterprises will wish to do it," she declared.

The government is just pointing the way.

In response to further questions, Mrs. Roosevelt said that quite a number of private industries were even now willing to go in to Reedsville.

Setting up of a governmental factory for making postoffice equipment was nipped in the bud by congressional action forbidding the postal department to buy such equipment from any factory outside the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Roosevelt also answered Wirt's statement yesterday before the Bulwinkle committee that 200 families now paying rent in Reedsville would be taken from that community by the project in which she is interested, thus making taxes even harder to collect.

"I question very much if any people will eventually move into the 125, not 200 homes at Reedsville who have paid any rent in quite a long time," she said.

"Most of these families were on relief or they would not have had opportunity to go out there."

She added that most of the families came from mining camps and she doubted very much if the mining companies would feel that they had been getting any rent out of their places.

Mrs. Roosevelt has set June 9 for her next visit to the Reedsville project.

Two Firemen Burned To Death Early Today

Five and Ten Cent Store Fire at Perth Amboy Almost Claims Third, Who is Critically Burned—Floor Supports Gave Way.

Perth Amboy, N. J., April 11 (AP)—Fire Chief Roland Jensen and fireman Sylvester Palo plunged to their death early today when the floor of the Five and Ten Cent Store collapsed after a fire in the cellar had eaten away the supports. They perished in the flames.

Another fireman, George Stevenson, 23, who was with the two men was rescued but is in a critical condition at Perth Amboy General Hospital.

The three were first to arrive at the scene of the fire and immediately went into the burning structure, carrying a fire hose. Jensen and Palo were ahead of Stevenson. As the floor gave way, they fell through and apparently lost their hold on the hose. Stevenson clung to a deeper level and was pulled out of the flames by other firemen.

In an adjoining building, Mrs. Jane Quinn, mother of former State Senator Arthur J. Quinn, now comptroller of the Port of New York, and also of Congressman John J. Quinn, was caught in the flames.

The fire was confined to the one store, contents of which were destroyed at a loss estimated by firemen at $25,000.

Jensen, who was 25 years old, was appointed fire chief last May. Palo was 24 years old.

The work of repairing the city streets has been commenced and a gang of men was engaged Tuesday making repairs to Green street where a multitude of small holes have made travel uncomfortable. Much of this work was done under the CWA program and the city has benefited by a great amount of permanent improvements. With weather conditions favorable the work of making repairs to the pavements will be continued. Several gangs of men are engaged on this work.

PARIS REDS ON THE MARCH

May Day promises to be a critical time in Paris, where embittered partisans of the two extremes, left and right, threaten again to "go on the streets." The photograph shows a communist marching unit pouring from the workingman's quarter of the uneasy capital, en route to the boulevards for one of the demonstrations which frequently develop into fierce fighting.

Leftists Sullen In Defeat. The police thereupon conducted raids, mostly in the workmen's districts on the industrial outskirts of Paris, and seized hundreds of rifles, revolvers and other weapons.

Normally the seizures would not cause much stir, but with the left suddenly smarting under its defeat of February 5 and the right worried lest the battle start all over again, the raids assumed importance.

leader, said publicly before the session started he didn't think it would be necessary to resort to the tactics used in the special session.

The house hardly had settled down to business, however, before the most drastic "gag" rule of them all was clamped on it, not only had the effect of silencing the members on one place of legislation but on all the appropriation bills.

The familiar cry that members of the house were prevented from exercising little more than a voting membership again was heard.

Rainey Saves The Day. THAT Speaker Rainey's authority still is supreme was demonstrated very clearly by the way he snatched victory from what everyone thought was defeat on the vote on veterans' allowances.

The vote finally recorded was 190 to 189 in the administration's favor. After the roll was called—and before disclosing the count—Rainey announced it was so close a recapitulation was necessary.

Amid the greatest confusion witnessed on the floor this session, with republicans doing everything within their power to compel him to announce the vote, Rainey held out. Administration leaders sought frantically for someone who would change over.

Finally the one vote was found and Rainey announced the outcome, thus single-handedly staving off defeat for the administration.

Still Use 'Gags'. ANY hope, however, of immediate and drastic liberalization of house procedure probably is vain. Such things just don't happen.

Most observers believe a start has been made. Many thought that when congress reassembled in January a bi-partisan effort to obtain more freedom in considering legislation would be started.

Byrns of Tennessee, the democratic leader, said publicly before the session started he didn't think it would be necessary to resort to the tactics used in the special session.

"Admitted to the Bar"

The term "admitted to the bar" is traceable to the old English custom of having a barrier or partition separating the seats of the benchers or readers from the rest of the hall, to which students after attaining a certain standing were "called" from the body of the hall in order that they might take part in the proceedings of the court.

A Washington Daybook.

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Opponents of the so-called "gag" rule in the house will have a rather convincing argument in the future when their leaders attempt to bind the members on important legislation.

They can point to the way the house acted on senate proposals to restore salaries for federal employees and liberalize allowances for veterans.

In both instances, in the face of terrific temptation, the house refused to side with the senate to restore in full the 15 per cent pay cut for government employees and greatly increase veterans' benefits.

"A lot of us have been arguing," said Brown of Kentucky, a first-term and one of the most outspoken critics of the "gag" rule, "that if the leaders would give us a chance to consider these bills and vote on their merits we would do the sensible, deliberate thing."

"We have demonstrated that fact."

Still Use 'Gags'

ANY hope, however, of immediate and drastic liberalization of house procedure probably is vain. Such things just don't happen.

Most observers believe a start has been made.

Many thought that when congress reassembled in January a bi-partisan effort to obtain more freedom in considering legislation would be started.

Byrns of Tennessee, the democratic leader, said publicly before the session started he didn't think it would be necessary to resort to the tactics used in the special session.

The house hardly had settled down to business, however, before the most drastic "gag" rule of them all was clamped on it, not only had the effect of silencing the members on one place of legislation but on all the appropriation bills.

The familiar cry that members of the house were prevented from exercising little more than a voting membership again was heard.

Rainey Saves The Day

THAT Speaker Rainey's authority still is supreme was demonstrated very clearly by the way he snatched victory from what everyone thought was defeat on the vote on veterans' allowances.

The vote finally recorded was 190 to 189 in the administration's favor.

After the roll was called—and before disclosing the count—Rainey announced it was so close a recapitulation was necessary.

Amid the greatest confusion witnessed on the floor this session, with republicans doing everything within their power to compel him to announce the vote, Rainey held out.

Administration leaders sought frantically for someone who would change over.

Finally the one vote was found and Rainey announced the outcome, thus single-handedly staving off defeat for the administration.

"40 Years Old and Now I Feel It!"

Forty years is a long time to live, and it is a long time to live with aches and pains. A new and improved machine has been invented to relieve these aches and pains. It is called the "40 Years Old and Now I Feel It!" machine. It is a small, portable machine that can be used anywhere. It is made of metal and has a handle. It is used by pressing it against the affected part of the body. It is said to be very effective in relieving aches and pains. It is a great invention for anyone who is over 40 years old.

Ex-Gandhi Disciple And Husband Separate

New York, April 11 (AP)—Nita Cook, former disciple of Gandhi, and her husband, Albert N. Hutchins, who she married after a whirlwind courtship on an ocean liner, are separated on their honeymoon.

Hutchins, a former mess boy on the liner, is in Wilmington, Del., visiting his parents.

"He is away for only a few days," Miss Cook said today. But she indicated that it may become a permanent rift. "If I have to travel about a good deal."

"He is a very nice boy," she said, "but I don't see how marriage can go with my work." It seemed, she added, that she would be moving often—to Chicago for the World's Fair opening. Then to her family's "estate" near Davenport, Ia.

"And then," she said, "I want to go to California, to write for movies. My husband can't go along idle, like a puppy dog."

The former Iowa girl added that "Al" does not wish to be merely "Mr. Cook."

She added, "Of course he is a very nice boy, but we haven't quite worked things out, and it looks like a difficult problem."

No immediate divorce is planned, Miss Cook said. "Al is trying to make up his mind what he wants to do."

Nita's 6-year-old son, Silvio, is living with a relative two blocks from his mother's hotel.

The Iowa "estate" Miss Cook mentioned is ten miles south of Davenport. "I can't say just when I shall go to Iowa," she explained. "I have to finish some work first."

"But I want to go when spring is in full swing."

Uncle Sam's Fleet Plays War Games

With the U. S. Fleet, off the coast of Mexico, April 11 (AP)—Surface craft of the Blue fleet were pitted in theoretical combat against the giant new submarines of the Brown fleet today as Uncle Sam's mighty armada moved southward on route to the east coast.

An attack by the submarines, last week in undersea craft, climaxed 36 hours of maneuvering and followed a night in which low, rakish destroyers made swift forays in simulation of actual warfare.

Capable of cruising 25,000 miles, with a displacement tonnage of 4,000, the submarines are armed with six-inch guns and house airplanes of their own.

The dirigible Macon continued to maneuver with the fleet in tactical tests, flying farther from its base than ever before. It pitted its scouting abilities against the scout cruisers of the attacking Brown fleet.

Three planes of the squadron of 15 flying boats winging their way to the canal zone, where they will meet the fleet, were expected to leave La Paz today for Acapulco, having been delayed by motor trouble.

The balance of the squadron reached Acapulco yesterday.

Slide At Big Indian Blocks Highway

A slide in the dug-way at Big Indian early this morning blocked traffic for about two hours before a crew from the highway department had opened the road to permit traffic to pass. The slide which happened about 8 o'clock completely blocked the main highway for a distance of 40 or 50 feet and covered the pavement to a depth of about four feet. A quantity of earth and a number of large trees had to be removed before traffic could pass.

For some time since the frost began to go out there have been smaller slides along the route but the one today was of such size as to carry down large trees from the mountainside.

Word of the slide was sent to County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran here and he in turn notified the State Maintenance department at New Paltz and Mr. Bogert, county engineer, sent a crew to the scene.

Frank Hawks Ready To Join Rescue Work

Shanghai, April 11 (AP)—The air over Shanghai cleared slightly late today, enabling two amphibian planes to undertake a search, but they soon returned, unable to penetrate fog engulfing Hangchow Bay.

They are Robert Gast, pilot, of Louisville, Ky., James Finch, copilot, of Miami, Fla., and Ivan Carlson of Donna, Texas.

They hopped early Tuesday in their mail plane from Shanghai for Canton, with a Tokyo business man as passenger. Carlson is communications manager for the Shanghai-Canton Airline.

The air over Shanghai cleared slightly late today, enabling two amphibian planes to undertake a search, but they soon returned, unable to penetrate fog engulfing Hangchow Bay.

Frank Hawks, American speed pilot here demonstrating a big bombing plane, stood by to take off if the weather cleared. His bomber is a land plane and Hawks did not desire to fly over-water in the fog.

Tug boats also entered the search.

New York Policemen Under Eating Orders

New York, April 11 (AP)—The familiar problem of "when do we eat" became today for New York's policemen a problem of "where do we eat."

A new order by Police Commissioner John F. O'Ryan is responsible. It forbids any uniformed policeman from entering (except in the line of duty) any "beer garden, tavern, summer garden, bar, bar and grill, liquor store."

Under the order policemen were finding it difficult to find eating places today. Nearly every restaurant, lunchroom and soda counter handles beer or liquor, and under the order no policeman, no matter how honorable his intentions, dare set foot in such places.

The penalty for violation of the order is suspension from duty at the discretion of the commissioner.

Another paragraph of the order forbids policemen, even when off duty, from indulging in intoxicants "to an extent unfitting them for duty."

State Income Tax Returns Due April 15

Albany N. Y. April 11 (AP)—The seven offices of the tax department in the state will keep open until 5 p. m. Saturday to receive returns for the state income tax.

Sunday, April 15 is the last day for filing.

If income comes within the following classifications a return must be made:

1—Gross income of $5,000 or more.

2—Net income if married and living with husband or wife, of $2,500 or more.

3—Net income of $1,000 or more if unmarried or if married, not living with husband or wife.

The normal tax rates are 2 per cent on the first $10,000 of net income, 4 per cent on the next $10,000 and 6 per cent on all over $20,000.

The emergency tax, payable this year for the first time is one per cent of the net income above $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married couples living together. The net income for this tax is computed differently from the net income for the regular tax. In this case adjustment is not allowed for capital gains or losses.

An exemption of $100 is allowed for each dependent under 18 or blind and unable to support himself.

WASHINGTON HEADLINERS

No. 3—Dr. Tugwell: One-Man Target For Critics of New Deal

Dr. TUGWELL

The glaring spotlight of public attention flashes on certain characters as they move quickly across the Washington stage. Associated Press staff writers, in a series of articles of which this is the third, take you "backstage" to see the human beings behind those big names.

By STEPHEN McDONOUGH

Washington (AP). A little bewilderment at "red revolution" charges crackling around his prematurely graying head, Prof. Reardon Guy Tugwell, the man who has been called "too good looking to get any sympathy," goes quietly about his business as assistant secretary of agriculture.

A mass of detail and routine has fallen upon his shoulders while Secretary Wallace has been drawn deeper and deeper into that inner circle of cabinet members shaping the basic program of the Roosevelt administration.

Those who know him best say this 42-year-old doctor of philosophy who writes learnedly on economics, history, literature and sociology is amused at the stir being made over him.

Frequently a project arousing the wrath of anti-administration leaders is labeled a "Tugwell brain wave," scoffed at for its "pretty language" and set down as a crack at the constitution.

Acc Brain Trustee

Tugwell, known as Mr. Roosevelt's "accident brain trustee," has written several books and doctrines expressed in them sometimes get him in bad with the conservatives on capitol hill and elsewhere.

His "The Industrial Discipline," written long before he met Franklin D. Roosevelt, has been the fuel for hours of political oratory on behalf of the constitution, yet Tugwell insists his ideas are not original or revolutionary and points out that many date back to the economic philosophies of ancient Greece. Those who expect to find in Tugwell a voracious soap-box radical find, instead, a man extremely modest in public. He makes no speeches, is not a socialite and follows no sports. He is a student, author, book-lover and adept conversationalist. His outstanding characteristic is a deep love of the open country.

Faru-born, but no horny-handed son of toil, the professor likes to roam through his father's apple orchard in Niagara county, New York, or stroll over the lawns of his home on the shores of Lake Ontario.

Shuns Controversies

Tugwell has kept his own counsel and refused to be drawn into controversies.

He feels that much said about his philosophies not only is incorrect but also unfair. He resents inferences that he has a leaning toward Russia. He admits being a liberal, if a liberal is one who is dissatisfied with things as he finds them, but never a scheming revolutionist.

"Liberals," he says, "would like to rebuild the station but keep the trains running. Radicals prefer to blow up the station and forego service until the new structure is ready."

The professor frankly favors disciplining the few for the good of the many.

Built a House

Congressional opponents of his pure food and drug bill made caustic use of his youthful appearance and his title when they quizzed him during committee hearings.

The implication was lost on the man who built a house for himself with his own hands, who wrote a monograph on Thomas Hardy and who said when he came back from overseas military service that the whole thing made him sick in body and soul.

Minor Amendments Hold Up Betting Bills

Albany, N. Y., April 11 (AP).—The three-point program to liberalize betting at New York state's race tracks and revise control of the sport was delayed temporarily in the New York legislature today pending minor amendments.

The bills were passed last week by the Senate and sent to the lower house for what legislative leaders believed would be immediate concurrence. An amendment or two was found necessary, however, and they have yet to be reported out favorably.

Legislative leaders interested in the program said the changes were only technical and did not vitally affect the program.

The program proposes (1) to legalize betting by repealing the Hughes anti-betting laws of 1908, (2) to amend the constitution to permit pari-mutuel betting and (3) create a new racing commission with broader powers to cooperate with the Jockey Club in governing the sport.

With the opening of the state's 1934 racing season only two weeks away, it is considered likely the bills will be pushed forward with all possible speed.

The amendments must be approved by the Senate, after and if the Assembly passes the bills, the program reaches Governor Lehman.

Port Ewen, April 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley and daughter, Lillian, Mrs. Kathryn Hood, Mrs. Mary Howland of Port Ewen and Mrs. M. Flowers of Kingston went to Olive Bridge in Mr. Wesley's car Saturday to attend the noble grand's meeting.

Stanley Duignan and Robert Burns of New York city spent the week with Mr. Duignan's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Brainerd.

Sirivannas Van Aken, who has been ill, is much improved.

A large and enthusiastic audience attended the musical show given by the Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps in Pythian Hall last evening. Each one took his part in an exceptional manner, each number receiving hearty applause as it was presented. The tap dancing by little Miss Havin also greatly pleased the audience. The large crowd stayed after the entertainment and enjoyed dancing to music furnished by the "Rhythm Orchestra." Tonight the musical show will be repeated and another large crowd is expected. Dancing will again be enjoyed after the show.

Miss Julia Card, who has a position in Peekskill, spent the weekend at her home on Hamilton street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley and daughter, Lillian, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wesley, in South Rondout.

The Deaf Society will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Donald Munn in Ulster Park Thursday evening. Mrs. Munn and Mrs. Phoebe Ostrander will be the hostesses. Those who have no way of getting to Mrs. Munn's are requested to meet at the home of Miss Alice Nelson at 7:30 o'clock.

The April meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the school house at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

A Virginia baked ham supper will be served in the M. E. Church house by the Priscilla Society April 19.

THE DANGER AGE FOR MEN

Forty years, the age at which men should stop to consider their physical condition.

The strain of modern living, together with the physical changes which result in old age and broken health. Among these are high blood pressure, diseases of the heart, kidneys, bladder, prostate and other special organs.

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

Two Flattering Capelines

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

The hat illustrated above is of natural shantung bakou. It introduces an interesting kept crown which is trimmed with an antelope band laced in Mexican colors, which include rust, beige, and brown. The lower model is of "Mexican magenta" bakou. Its molded round crown adds a flattering touch. The trimming is a twist of velvet and a bow of pussy-blue velvet ribbon.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Laces are played up more prominently in collections of formal fashions, in very feminine colors such as pale pink and blue, also livelier tones such as turquoise and deep rose.

As Usual There's a Reason

New York—There doesn't seem to be much sense in a sleeveless coat, especially when worn over a sleeveless dress, but there's a lot of fashion sense in it nevertheless.

To begin with, a coat such as described is one of the few coats a woman might make herself, for it is a pattern. And that's a point that seems important right now. Women are thinking about, even learning to make clothes again.

We have for one reason become decidedly coat-conscious, to the point of not feeling well-dressed unless we are wearing some sort of over-covering coat or jacket. So when summer headed this way, what is more natural than an interest in sleeveless coats? Cotton and lace coats for the casual occasions, the new and altogether adorable flower capes and jackets which are being played up by the young things for weddings and parties. It does seem as though fashion had decided on a be-good-to-pride-moments season. Most of the approved dance and daytime dining costumes have that middle-size look, lace hats and all.

Since we are going in heavily for ruffles, fluffs and such, it seems necessary to have some sort of wrap that will not crush or destroy their crispness. Hence the long, rather casual coats. Hence also the pretty fashion of the transparent coat, an outer wrapping which does not hide the dress beneath. All of which goes to prove that once you think about it, you are immediately convinced that there is a time and a place for a sheer and sleeveless wrap.

THE SLEEVELESS COAT

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

A daytime ensemble, the dress developed in a lively red cross-bar crepe, and the coat, for wear with other frocks, of course, done in a black nubby wool. The dress sleeve is interesting in its length, also in its treatment at the shoulder, and the coat, widening at the shoulders and with pointed detail below the hips, is interesting.

Sailor Collars Enjoy Shore Leave

For evening wear the sailor collar makes a striking entrance. It sometimes serves as merely a shoulder covering, for a distinguished gown in lace, detachable then, of course, and when attached describes either square or V shaping at the front.

Taffeta jackets, also crepe ones, printed and plain, take on a casual quality that goes with spring and summer, when necklines are sailor collared.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press

Anything to Oblige. Pemberton, N. J.—George Riley, former constable and traffic policeman who was arrested on a charge of beating up a brother-in-law, told Justice of the Peace Emil T. Speil that he had no money for bail.

But, said the magistrate, he had an officer to take the prisoner to the county jail at Mt. Holly. "What's the matter with taking myself to jail?" asked Riley. The court consented and the prisoner went to jail unescorted.

Two May Be Three. New York—The Central Park zoo now has two or three—it doesn't know which—wallaroos, a species of the kangaroo.

Only two could be seen when the wallaroos reached the zoo yesterday from Australia. But Captain R. C. Stout, head of the zoo, believes the two were three. "The mother is carrying something in her pouch and won't take it out," he said. "She is pretty wild and timid now, and all we can do is wait until she gets used to these new surroundings."

And No Place to Go. Woodbury, N. J.—"Let's go, boys! There's a fire in Sewell!" cried the Barnabro boys, with a lusty wail, from the fire house siren. They had seen a glow in the sky.

"Let's go, boys! There's a fire in Barnabro!" shouted the Sewell fire men on hearing the siren. The two fire companies met halfway between the villages and halted for explanations. The fire, it seems, was in some grass which the Sewell laddies had burned for "practice."

And Then It Rained Like Thunder. Clarion, Pa.—Lightning struck transformer outside the junior high school last night in the midst of a student play, shattering a score of windows and bringing the 350 spectators to their feet.

Thirteen-year-old Mary Belle Baker kept on with her piano playing without missing a note. "That's all that saved a panic," said the school officials.

Little Service Please. St. Paul—Relief groceries are all right, but William Mangano would like a little service.

The welfare board gave him groceries, but he complained yesterday to the city council, he wants them delivered.

"The government used to add 16 pounds to my grocery order," Mangano said, "but last time it added 20 pounds. I live a mile and a half from the store and I'm supposed to carry that load."

"You want it delivered?" Commissioner Wenzel asked.

"Yes," Mangano replied, "wouldn't you?"

"Couldn't you make it in three trips?" asked Mayor Mahoney.

"If you will pay for the shoe leather."

It is expected that Mangano will have to continue to carry his free groceries.

Retention in Early Life. Rattlesnakes, which are approximately five inches long at birth, will try to rattle and hiss almost as soon as they are born. And when they are but five or six inches long they are capable of inflicting venom in quantities sufficient to require treatment.

Funeral Plans for Theodore Robinson

Little Falls, N. Y., April 11 (AP).—Arrangements for the funeral of Theodore Douglas Robinson, former assistant secretary of the navy, were held in absence today pending the arrival of his son, Douglas, who has been vacationing in Bermuda.

Mr. Robinson died yesterday at the Roberson ancestral home, Cruger Mansion, in the Mohawk valley town of Warren after a few days illness of pneumonia. He would have been 51 years old on April 28.

His death followed closely his decision to reenter politics, after an absence of several years, as a candidate for congress from the 33rd district, comprising Oneida and Herkimer counties.

Coming as a shock to legislators at Albany, most of whom did not know he was ill, Mr. Robinson's death brought comment of regret from many leaders.

As the senate adjourned last night out of respect for the man who had served for several years in the Democratic majority leader, "some friends" of Mr. Robinson "one of my former friends."

Senator George R. Peck, Republican leader, said "to know him was to like him."

Mr. Robinson served one year in assembly in 1912, and six years in the senate.

Inspected Streets Of Bridge City

Mayor C. J. Heiselman, City Engineer Henry Darrow and Superintendent James Norton of the board of public works motored to Poughkeepsie on Tuesday afternoon where they inspected the streets of the city, which they found in excellent shape. They were shown over the city by the superintendent of the board of public works and extended every courtesy. Poughkeepsie has mostly macadam streets and some that have been down for over 20 years are apparently as good as new.

Poughkeepsie uses asphalt in building its streets and has its own plant. Kingston also has a $28,000 asphalt plant near Hasbrouck Park, but it has not been used since the Crane administration. The plant, however, is practically a ruin and would require the expenditure of a considerable sum to place it in shape.

"I might take a trimming
in 'STEEL'

...but HOW I Know My Onions!"

HAM-and-Eggs take their dips and jumps just like Steel and Telephone. You can bet dollars to doughnuts most women wish there was a ticker in every kitchen.

A penny more or less in the price of bread or tomatoes can make a lot of difference when you're cooking for a family of five—and the woman who isn't long on buying sense may find herself short of cash!

But stocks and bonds are traded in a public exchange. Foods are sold over-the-counter and it's not the same thing at all. There's no "big board" to tell you what to pay for onions and cheese and soap and lard. All the more reason for you to know what NOT to pay!

If you are one of the 9,312 women who read the Daily Freeman every day, you'll know the answer. You'll know, for example, that "blind shopping" is needless extravagance. For the Daily Freeman Ads are your "price ticker," shopping list and sound buying guide all in one.

The ads tell you the price of a bottle of bluing or a can of beans—not only at one store but everywhere. The ads tell you what to serve for dinner tonight; they remind you what you need. The ads insure your getting real value because an advertising merchant knows you will compare his offering with others and choose the best!

And most important these days—whether you're buying corn, stockings or gasoline—the Daily Freeman Ads point the way to quality. Most merchants know that anything less than real quality loses too much good will to be worth the cost of advertising it.

Make it a habit to shop through Daily Freeman Ads! You may never feel the thrill of scalping the market. But you'll have the solid satisfaction of knowing that your housekeeping dollar goes one hundred cents of the way!

Millie at Mike's

By GEORGE A. WILSON

By Mr. George A. Wilson

MILLIE, blond and neat little head was bent close to the top of the counter. She was staring critically at the object which the person addressing her had just laid there. She looked up at the man standing in front of her.

Yesterday was the first time that Millie had ever seen Don Fraser. He had made a breezy entrance into the small restaurant at noon and came directly to her counter.

"Hello, Cattie," had been his first words. It must be admitted that Millie had often been addressed thus.

"Beautiful morning, isn't it?" "Oh—it's all right," she drawled. "Yeah. You're pretty cheerful, ain'tcha? Gimme a deck of bumps if you ain't too busy looking in that mirror," he said.

"Oh, I guess I got time for you," she drawled sarcastically. "Yeah? Thanks."

She watched him with a smile on her lips as he moved away. She liked this man.

Don Fraser smiled. He knew that he was making a hit, and Millie appealed to him. Hash-house cashiers weren't beneath him. He thought that he could use Millie.

On his way out of the restaurant, Don stopped again at the girl's counter. Paying for his lunch, he started talking to her again: "I hope you didn't think I was too fresh," he said.

"Now, I get used to that kind of talk in here."

"I betcha do. Say," he continued with fresh enthusiasm, "do you know that you got darn pretty hair?"

"Are you going to hand me that line?" she asked, drawing back with feigned coldness.

"Aw no—no," he protested, "you really have got pretty hair, and you're pretty, too."

"Say, you're not so slow, are you, big-boy?"

"Being slow wouldn't get me any place with you, would it?"

"Well, now, young man, just what do you mean?" she asked innocently.

Don had to wait for a while until Millie waited upon another customer. He watched her sharply. She was pretty and a little more intelligent looking than most girls of her type.

He had to admire the freshness of her unadorned face and the simplicity of her dress. He began to have faint misgivings; perhaps she wouldn't be as easy as he thought. Lighting a cigarette, he puffed rapidly at it until she turned to him again: "Now, what was it that you meant?"

"I mean that I want to see a lot more of you," he answered.

"That ought to be easy, I'm here six hours every day."

"Do you want me to come around?" "I didn't say that."

"I know you didn't, but—say, what are you doing tonight?"

"I can tell you better—tomorrow."

Watching him go through the door, she sighed. She was wondering if she would see him again, and if she did, whether he would make a date with her. Millie wasn't in the habit of making dates with the restaurant's customers. Mike had warned her against it, and Mike knew; hadn't he run this little business for twenty-three years? But this Don was different; he had to be different; somebody had to take her out of this place. Millie didn't want to be a hash-house cashier all her life, and she had little chance of meeting men outside the restaurant.

Work Progressing On New Golf Course

The work of preparing the new course of the Wiltwyck Golf Club for opening during the latter part of May is being furthered as rapidly as possible.

The main activity at the club grounds on Hurley avenue now centers around the remodeling of the fine old barn on the premises, for use as a club house. The ladies of the club have taken over this activity, which means that things are moving. Architect Harry Halverson plans a transformation that will retain the colonial character of the building and produce an attractive club house that will be a credit to the club.

It is further planned that the work the ladies are planning on 1834-1834 avenue, to be given at the new municipal auditorium Friday evening, April 27. They are expecting this to appeal to people all along the Hudson valley, because of its historic interest and its display of many lovely old gowns and costumes that have been preserved as cherished mementoes of the past.

A short entertainment program has been arranged for the occasion, refreshments will be served. Paul Zucca will furnish music for dancing and a good time is expected.

Those who wish tickets may call Mrs. John MacKinnon, chairman, at 1555 or Mrs. Howard R. St. John, vice-chairman, at 3368-J.

The first of the season was held at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium last night. The contest was between the local team and the visiting team. The local team won by a score of 10 to 5.

In the first half of the game, the local team was in a dangerous position. They were down 5 to 0. But in the second half, they came back and won the game.

Most Vets Take It Easy. As the first of the season, the local team was in a dangerous position. They were down 5 to 0. But in the second half, they came back and won the game.

How About The Rules? The rules of baseball state that a fielder (which of course includes catcher, pitcher or anybody else) may occupy the baseline only WHEN HE HAS THE BALL with which to tag the runner. However, the almost never questioned practice through the years of fielders taking up their position there (a blocking position) before the ball has actually arrived has caused almost everybody to lose sight of (if they ever knew) this rule.

The idea is, of course, that the ball will come into his possession a tenth second or so before the runner bumps into him. Technically he has no right to be in that base-runner's way until he has the apple.

Fans will recall the rather widely-discussed run-up play a few seasons ago when Gabby Hartnett got in a Giant runner's way and got bumped into a second or so before he (Gabby) received the ball. There was an official row over this but the claim of interference was finally disallowed.

Players going into second on a force play often dive deliberately beyond the bag to break up the relay to first base. The rules here specifically give the umpire the right to declare the other base-runner (the one who was batsman) out for the first base-runner's interference, but it happens so rarely everybody gets indignant when an umpire does rule strictly on the play.

P. N. A. Club to Meet Thursday Night at 8

A special meeting of the P. N. A. Club to make plans for the coming baseball season will be held Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock in the rooms of the Polish-American Citizens Club, 460 Delaware avenue. All interested in the club and its activities in the field of baseball are invited to attend the session.

Marshmallow Plant. The marshmallow is a tall, erect plant, cousin to the hollyhock, native to both Europe and Asia and grows most freely in marshes near the sea. A decoction of the roots and other parts gives a tasteless, colorless gum used in the manufacture of molasses and medicinally as a demulcent for children. The "marshmallow" originally made from it, are of sugar, corn syrup and gelatin.

"Mush" March Scores Goal to Give Chi 1-0 Victory Over Detroit Red Wings and Championship Cup.

Chicago, April 11 (AP).—Chicago's eight year quest for the Stanley Cup had ended in triumph today and Little Harold (Mush) March was professional hockey's man of the hour.

After more than 30 minutes of bitter, dogged hockey before a crowd of 16,500 spectators, March, the littlest man on the ice, drove a waist-high shot into the net behind Wilf Cude, to give the Black Hawks a 1 to 0 victory over Detroit's Red Wings, the old power cup and the world professional title. It was the same March, who slashed home a goal in an overtime period to defeat Les Canadiens of Montreal, in the final match of the second place series of the National League playoffs.

The crowd burst into tumultuous cheering and huzzed for nearly ten minutes, as Frank Calder, president of the league, handed the trophy to Major Frederick McLaughlin, owner of the Hawks. The victor-mad through refused to be satisfied until March skated slowly around the rink with Louis Trudel hugging him about the shoulders.

The Hawks became the third American team to take Canada's most highly prized trophy. The New York Rangers won in 1928 and 1929, while the Boston Bruins emerged victors in 1929.

American Clubs Remain Behind But by Smaller Margin Due to Cleveland's Wins Over Giants—Total Victories for Nationals, 12; Americans, 35.

New York, April 11 (AP).—With only a week to go before the big show opens, the National League clubs still lead a comfortable margin over their American League rivals today in the Grapefruit League competition.

The margin, however, was smaller than it was a week ago, due largely to the consistency with which the Cleveland Indians have beaten the world champion New York Giants in their spring series. To date the National League clubs have chalked up 42 victories in inter-league competition against 35 for the American League entries.

Last week the National had a nine-game margin. But since then the Indians have beaten the Giants four times in five clashes to climb up among the leading teams in the competition and a couple of other American League teams have shown signs of improvement.

St. Louis, Chi Dangerous. The results, which will be wiped out as soon as the regular season opens, points to the St. Louis Cardinals as a couple of dangerous customers and Cleveland as a stand-out in the junior circuit. The Giants, despite their trouble with Cleveland, have been the heaviest winners in the inter-league competition with nine victories. But they also have the largest loss figure, ten. The Boston Braves, with seven triumphs and Chicago's White Sox, with six, also rate up among the big winners.

Cards Individual Leaders. The Cards held the list individually with five victories and two defeats, followed by Cleveland with 6 and 2, and the Cubs with 4 and 2. The Boston Red Sox, touted as a coming first division team, are largely responsible for the American League's poor showing, winning only two of their ten games with National League Clubs.

Coach Is Pleased With Yale Crew. New Haven, April 1 (AP).—It has been four years since a Yale crew gave Harvard its wash at New London but the quiet confidence of Coach Ed Leader in the prospects for his 1934 boatload have caused Eli rowing adherents to believe that perhaps happy days are due again.

Usually taciturn on Yale rowing prospects, Leader makes no secret today of his pleasure with the material on hand for the start of the twelfth year of his regime.

"It is too early to say what men I shall have in my boats, when they go into action," he commented, but then added: "I am very pleased with the material I have. The men are keenly awake to what is needed. All are looking forward to our season."

They beaten by Harvard in as many years on the Thames at New London, Yale pins its hopes of breaking the Harvard victory string next June on balance rather than experience.

Of the boatload that rowed and lost last year only Capt. Johnny Jackson, of New Haven, W. S. Kilbourne, of New York, and J. S. Pillsbury, of Crystal Bay, Mich., remain. To this nucleus, Leader may add P. I. Taylor, of Louisville, and J. S. Atwood, of Springfield, Mass., both of whom rowed on the junior variety a year ago. The rest of the boat may be filled with sophomores.

Meagre though his dried material may seem, there is a deadly snake of the head from Leader. He points with undisguised pleasure to the fact that there is hardly ten pounds difference between the lightest and heaviest men in his varsity, most of them being close to the average weight of 178 pounds he regards as ideal.

Capt. Jackson appears definitely slated for his old seat at stroke. He stroked his freshman crew and then moved up to the same berth in the varsity as a sophomore. Last year, however, he pulled the No. 6 oar. The other places are as yet undetermined.

More than a score of crews—varsity, junior variety, 150-pounds, yearlings, and college-house, eight—are at work and it is possible some bright prospects may be uncovered on the minor crews. Organized last fall, the college-house rowing has been placed in charge of Bob Butler, University of Washington graduate and former coach of two Navy crews at Poughkeepsie.

Reading, Pa.—Gus Sonnenberg, 200, Boston, threw Marshall Blackstock, 235, Memphis, 20-42.

GLANCING AT SPORTS

By Joe Kelly

Slender After Talent. The date is fast approaching and the Legion has not announced its card, which means that the old professor of punch has to do some lively stepping around the gym of the metropolis to book battles and pair them for the festive exhibition.

In naming the date for the show, Studer said he would present Big Bill Freeman, old National Guard heavy champ, in the feature attraction. Fans have been waiting eagerly to hear the negro's opponent, hoping to hear he will be a man who can handle the dusky giant whose powerful right uppercut carried him to the throne of soldier boxing.

Tony Rodriguez, local Spanish featherweight, is also slated to appear for the Legion and so it Nick Zinna, former uncrowned lightweight king of the Hudson valley, who left Kingston several years ago for Brooklyn. He has been doing considerable ring campaigning since he took up his residence down the river and will be in shape to put up a sizzling battle.

Boxing fans are eager to hear more about the Legion boxing program and Doe should have some sort of news to impart when he gets back from the big city.

Luckies Held Drill. Jack Troy's Luckies went through a stiff practice at White Eagle Hall Tuesday in preparation for the finish of their case series with Pete Bruck's Stone Riders to decide the semi-professional championship of Ulster county.

Troy seemed more than pleased with the way his squad worked and thinks it will come through for the title.

When the championship will be decided is in question. The teams can't agree on a court. The Luckies want to play at their own or Rosendale, a neutral battleground. The Riders want to play at B. W. S. Hall, their home cage at High Falls.

It is the consensus of fans that the series should be settled on some neutral court and soon. The season is setting late and Ulster is still without a team of semi-pro basketball champions.

Real Appreciation. Athletes are an unthankful bunch is the opinion many have of football, baseball, basketball players and bawlers because when they want something they have the "gimmies" and then forget all about favors after they have been granted.

This is not true of all, however, as proven by the following letter received by The Freeman from the appreciative and thoughtful little basketball team, the Connelly Aces:

The Connelly Aces basketball team takes this opportunity to thank you for the kindness you showed during the past basketball season by giving us time and space in your paper for articles and scores of our games.

Although we started the season late we were fortunate enough to win 14 out of 19 games and we realize that many of the teams we played communicated with us only because they read the pieces in your paper concerning our team.

We again thank you and feel confident that we will be able to maintain the same friendly relation with you. We are going to form a baseball team this year.

Yours in sport, THE CONNELLY ACES. Russell Maurer, Frank Kowalek, Edward Maurer, Joseph Wenzel, Fred Maurer, Kenneth Wenzel, Irving Maurer.

Gentle Wins. Tony Gentle defeated Fred Planthaber 132-106 in their billiard match of the round robin Tuesday at Nick's. High runs were Gentle 20, Planthaber 14.

Tonight in the junior tournament John Whitaker is booked to play Reuben Lewis.

East Kingston Tourney. Tuesday night James Rua defeated Coke Tiano 100-75 at Grand's billiard parlor in the East Kingston tournament. High runs were Rua 16, Tiano 13.

John Ferguel is matched with Tony Mottsey for tonight.

POULTRY FACTS

NEED MODEL HEN, SAYS POULTRYMAN. Long Life and Good Laying Qualities Count.

By Prof. J. C. Graham, Poultry Department, Massachusetts State College, U.S. N. A. C. Service. Poultrymen need a change of eye in breeding objectives. The model hen should be long lived as well as a good layer.

The first breeding of chickens was for fighting purposes. One of the ancestors of the Rhode Island Red was the Malay Red game bird. Bred for the fighting pit naturally was rugged, strong birds. From fighting qualities, some of the poultry breeders turned to size as the aim of the breeding work.

Later, show type and color were given the greatest prominence by leading breeders. Many new breeds and varieties were developed in America during the period from 1850 to 1920. Since that time the trend has been toward higher egg production, with some attention given to increasing the size of eggs. The efforts of breeders to increase production have progressed to the extent that in many of the better poultry flocks, no birds are used as breeders unless they have produced at least 200 eggs during their pullet year.

Accompanying this increase in egg production there has been an alarming increase in the mortality of pullets during the laying year. In the state college flock, records during the past laying season indicate that more than 50 per cent of the deaths were caused by some body weakness, rather than by infectious diseases. Carefully kept records in laying contests and at other agricultural colleges show the same general situation.

The emphasis on show type and on high production over a period of years to the neglect of vitality and energy, has resulted in a gradual decline in the durability of the average highly bred poultry flock. The modern hen does have the constitution to stand the strain of her own high production.

The poultryman must correct this condition by locating the long life families of hens in his flock, and only birds from those families as breeders and the foundation stock for his future flocks.

Chick Brooding in Tents. Costs Less Than Houses. Chicks can be brooded successfully in tents instead of brooder houses in regions where the rainfall is light and early spring temperatures are above freezing, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. In experiments conducted at the department's poultry experiment station, Glendale, Ariz., there was somewhat less mortality in the chicks that were brooded in tents than in similar groups in regular brooder houses.

In most cases the tents required less heat for brooding, being warmer during the day though colder at night. The tests were of 56 days' duration and the brooders were heated by electricity. The estimated annual cost of the tents and equipment, including depreciation and interest on investment, was less than half that for the brooder houses.

Dressed Ducklings. In order to have dressed ducklings appear to the best advantage and also to insure their keeping qualities as long as possible, it is important that they should have no feed in their crops when they are killed. This means that if they are to be killed in the morning, which is the usual practice on commercial duck farms, the ducklings should be fed for the last time the previous night. If, however, they are to be killed in the afternoon they can be fed lightly in the morning. The regulations regarding all dressed poultry for the market state that they shall have been starved for sufficient length of time before being killed to empty crops and intestines, during which time they should have access to clean drinking water.—Montreal Herald.

Feeding Chicks. When feeding chicks, allow enough room for each bird. This fact is imperative for, if it is neglected, many bad practices may result. The feed should be placed in no-waste hoppers or in troughs on wire feeding platforms. One inch of hopper space should be allowed for each chick and if this method is followed there will be sufficient room for half the chicks to eat at one time. Three or four drinking fountains should be placed around the store to prevent crowding.

Move the Brooder House. One of the essential practices in growing healthy chicks is to move the brooder house to clean, fresh range. Much of the success in brooding chicks depends upon raising them on grass where hens or diseased chicks have not run for the last three years. To do this a portable brooder house is necessary. While portable houses can be equipped with runners, less damage will occur if the house is placed on skids rather than runners attached to the house.

Bouquet's "Pilgrim's Progress." Bouquet's "Pilgrim's Progress" was published in February, 1907. It is generally supposed that he wrote it during a short period of imprisonment in 1875 and not during the years that he spent in the old jail at Bedford.

The thick, deep-ribbed edge of TEMPERED RUBBER in the tread of U. S. Tires hold to the ground with the surest and firmest of grips. And they maintain that extra-safe traction for thousands of more miles—because TEMPERED RUBBER is the toughest, slowest-wearing tire rubber ever developed!
Remember, there is only one genuine TEMPERED RUBBER. Only in tires built by U. S. do you get TEMPERED RUBBER; plus qualities—extra miles, more safety, greater tire strength—all at no extra cost. Come in and let us quote you on tires for your car.
